B. Strategy for Addressing Needs

Provide a brief description of the PHA's strategy for addressing the housing needs of families on the PHA's public housing and Section 8 waiting lists IN THE UPCOMING YEAR, and the Agency's reasons for choosing this strategy.

To a large degree, Northampton's success as a diverse, economically vibrant, safe, caring and well-managed small city is the cause of much of the housing need faced by low-income families and individuals here. When it comes to housing, people vote with their feet, choosing to live where the schools are good, the streets safe, and where employment opportunities are possible, and where human and social services meet their needs.

The City has utilized Federal, State and local resources to create an impressive assortment of housing programs for eligible families, and these programs - many of which are the only ones of their kind in the immediate area-have attracted families who attempt to provide for their housing needs in Northampton. For example, the City provides local resources for a winter season "cot shelter" which serves individuals from the region, funds housing search and landlord-tenant mediation programs, assists fixed-income elders with a home repair program, and provides subsidies for families living in a pre-paid expiring use development. As another example, Northampton's Housing Partnership has provided resources to renovate, and return to the market, affordable rental stock, including SRO housing. The Valley Community Development Corporation sponsors counseling, and provides down payment assistance to first time homebuyers. The NHA has worked diligently in conjunction with City leaders and residents to ensure that a 252-unit apartment complex will remain affordable for the foreseeable future.

Northampton provides the urban life for the 5 College community (of U. Mass, Smith College, Mt. Holyoke College, Hampshire College and Amherst College) and its more than 15,000 off-campus students. With its nightlife and safe streets, Northampton has become attractive to this population, which is able to pool resources to rent large numbers of local apartments, thus creating a demand which raises rents greater than those which working families can afford (and which exceed FMR's for the City, which is lumped in with the lower priced Springfield MSA, located 25 miles away).

As the home to the former Northampton State Hospital (NSH), and the locus for most of the community based mental health programs in the area, housing needs are magnified for this population. Fully 45% of the 450 "elderly" apartments rented by the NHA are rented to a younger disabled population. Additionally, a disproportionate number of residents of both the Grove St. Inn, a year round homeless shelter, and the cot shelter program, are extremely young, most former clients of the Department of Youth Services or the Department of Social Services, many with substance abuse histories. Only with extensive and on-going counseling, treatment and skills training, will this needy population truly fit into existing permanent housing programs.

The strategy HUD expects local housing authorities to employ to meet the needs of families in need of affordable housing, however, is largely contingent on Federal and state resource allocation to these service agencies, on adequate funding of LHA operating and capital budgets, on adequate funding for Section 8 HAP payments and recognition of actual housing costs in the community when issuing its Fair Market Rents, and on providing cities and towns the social services and housing glue that the CDBG program provides. Those resources, however, are being cut or their growth limited by Congressional action. Strategies offered by HUD in its planning documents are out of date when submitted to a financial reality check.

Northampton's lack of supply of affordable housing is magnified by the demand for it; a demand based on the City's reputation for good schools, as well as its proximity to the VA Medical Center, its mental health services, and notoriety as a community which offers shelter services not available in other local communities, and as a community which values and protects the diversity of its population. The success of the local economy, and the service sector jobs it has spawned, has led to employment opportunity, but housing opportunity, especially for low-skilled workers, lags dangerously in some measure because, for the most part, the City has been built out, but more ominously because of the failure of federal and state policies to provide for the financing or new affordable housing.

The City and the NHA is struggling to preserve existing subsidized housing and creating new housing development for low-income families, including transitional housing for single individuals with essential mental health or substance abuse needs. Inherent in the creation of additional transitional housing is the need for the multi-faceted services needed to ensure that this housing is, in fact, transitional. Local and state are straining to address these concerns, but without significant Federal involvement in the form of tax incentives for private housing creation - and social and human services to address deep-rooted social problems faced by participants - Northampton will continue to be an attractive victim of its own success, scratching the surface of its need for affordable housing while other area communities with less subsidized housing will do little to attempt to solve or even recognize the problem.

In short, Northampton and the NHA cannot provide adequate, affordable housing for its residents without a renewed partnership with the Federal government.

The Annual Plan calls for the NHA to take several significant steps in the near future, each of which requires more than rhetoric from the Federal government.

First, the NHA will continue to seek to increase FMR's above their current level, while at the same time continuing to work with other similarly-affected communities to be re-classified from the Springfield MSA. This effort is a fool's errand, however, if Section 8 funding allocations continue to be cut so that housing authorities must reduce payment standards, deny portability or reduce utilization rates.

The current FMR's have a devastating impact on the ability of new Section 8 participants to find eligible housing in Northampton, and existing participants to find different housing in Northampton and the northern sub-region of the MSA. The effect of the implementation of the new FMR's has been, based on where new voucher holders are finding housing, to further concentrate poverty in the southern sub-region of the MSA, thus contradicting the Congressional mandate in QHWRA.

The current FMR's fly in the face of what we know about rents in the Northampton-Easthampton area (the NHA's jurisdiction) the availability of Section 8-eligible housing here, and the actual experience of Section 8 participants seeking eligible housing. That knowledge is bolstered by a Rent Reasonableness survey conducted in 2004, informal market survey data, and conversations with area landlords and rental agents. We await promised, new RDD survey of rents, currently being conducted by HUD, which we believe, will confirm our local findings. That said, however, without adequate funding to meet HAP payments linked to higher rents, HUD can raise FMR's to the roof without helping one voucher holder.

Second, fully 50% of our housing is occupied by families with disabilities, a population in need of on-going and, at times, acute services. As the social service network continues to peel away due to budget cuts, we increasingly put needs of building a strong and vibrant and safe public housing community at risk. We rely on the Courts to step in at this point to protect both the needs of the individual tenant, with the rights of the community to quiet enjoyment, and safety. Staff allocation at the NHA during the next few years will continue to emphasize lease enforcement and referral to social services for tenants in need.

Finally, the NHA is moving ahead with plans for constructing six additional units for clients with mental health needs, two units for families with mobility impairments, and a development to allow first-time homebuyers a chance at the American dream. Of note is that not one dime for these projects comes from Washington.

The fact that the City of Northampton, in partnership with the NHA, is one of the few Communities in Massachusetts to exceed 10% affordability in its housing stock demonstrates it's commitment to creating an economically diverse community.

As for a strategy, we have one: It's now largely up to Congress and the President to determine if they want to be our partners.
