RESOLUTION 512

Albertville Housing Authority
ALBERTVILLE HOUSING HOME OWNERSHIP PROGRAM

The Albertville Housing Authority’s (AHA) Home Ownership Program provides home ownership services to help low and moderate income households become and remain successful homeowners. Through program support and collaborative efforts between the AHA and the participant, awareness of available services can be heightened and steps can be made toward the attainment of homeownership goals.

AHA’s Homeownership Program offers pre- and post-home purchase counseling, foreclosure prevention assistance, financial education and information concerning home maintenance. Our housing counselors will review each participant’s individual situation so they can choose the best option for their housing needs.

Pre-Purchase Housing Counseling

We offer counseling for homebuyers to guide them through mortgage and loan qualification and purchase of a home. We also offer counseling for those in need of credit repair, creating a budget, and planning for the future. Our in-house counselors will have assistance with this aspect of the program from representatives of Bancorp South and representatives from the Alabama Cooperative Extension System. The purpose of pre-purchase counseling is to help the participant evaluate their readiness to purchase a home. The topics that are covered during pre-purchase counseling include:

- Determining the price of the home that a mortgage company or bank may approve a loan for, based upon the current household income and long term debts,
- Review the head of household's credit report and make suggestions on what may be necessary to repair any previous credit problems.
- Advise the participant on local programs available that can assist with down payment and closing costs.
- Setting up a household budget that will include all necessary costs of home ownership.

Post Purchase Housing Counseling

We also offer additional counseling for homeowners that are having trouble making their monthly mortgage payments. We can provide early delinquency intervention, budget counseling, and answers to any foreclosure questions. Post-purchase counseling will provide general suggestions and ideas on how a participating household may be able to prepare for and work through tough financial situations.

An important part of owning a home is learning to successfully budget home finances. Participants will be shown how to set goals and prioritize to hopefully prevent the consequences of bad budgeting habits. Successful household budgeting will provide the participant household with resources that they might need to manage any unforeseen situation that often occurs with home ownership.

Buying a home may be the largest investment that a participating household will ever make, so one of the first goals of this program is to prepare the participants with as much knowledge as possible in order for them to make the right decision for themselves. We can also provide information on basic home maintenance and energy conservation tips to help the participant household maintain their home in good condition. Homeownership counseling will present the participant household with opportunities available for homeownership in the private housing market, including information on the individual's rights under the Fair Housing Act.
