Narrative

Housing Needs:

The Fairport PHA service area includes nearly all of Eastern and Southeastern Monroe County with a population of 247,807 (2000 Census). This number includes the Town of Macedon in Wayne County, which is in our legal area of operation. Within this large and social -economic diverse area, the PHA has been successful in outreach to many low-income households who would otherwise not apply or even have knowledge of the Section 8 assistance. However, the need continues to grow at a faster rate than can be assisted. For example, our current waiting list has 377 applicants for a 343 unit program (Table B Template), which is approximately the same size waiting list as existed one year ago in spite of the fact that 36 new Fair Share vouchers have been received. In addition to the aforementioned Vouchers the PHA actively purges older applications, yet if the waiting list were to close and no applications received , it would take 5 years to serve those already on the list.

There has been a marked increase of 25% in the number of applicants from the city of Rochester, who now make up approximately 55% of the waiting list. At the same time 27% of all households on the waiting list are at or below 30% of the median income for the area, with the rest at or below 50% of median. While these numbers clearly reflect the PHA's success in outreach and leasing of very low-income families, it also indicates the need is growing, especially from applicants from the city who wish to live in the suburbs. However, Section 8 availability in the suburban area is very limited compared to the city.

The 1990 census numbers (income data from the 2000 Census is not available) clearly indicate that there were 10,708 (Table A Template) families below the 50% of area median income within our program area, and another 35,992 below 50% median within the city of Rochester. The Monroe County CHAS (County Housing Assistance Strategy) indicates the need for new units for families. It points out that since 1980 no new lower income rental units for families have been built in suburban Monroe County, and that there is near zero vacancy rate and long waiting lists for the existing low income units built before 1980. In addition, many of the existing low- income projects have a minimum income levels above 50% median income. Therefore, these numbers clearly and definitively demonstrate the need for Section 8 in this area.

Financial Resources:

The PHA for Fiscal year 2000 received Tenant based grants amounting to 1,324,077. Estimate that FY 2001 funding will be slightly higher due to new incremental units received. In addition, the PHA estimates other miscellaneous income and fraud recovery receipts will total 2,500 for FY 2001. There are no other Federal Grants available to this agency. However, the Fairport Industrial development Agency provides financial backing in a form of a temporary loan up to $50,000 to the Fairport Section 8 Program. This helps avoid any disruptions in the Program's income stream.

Homeownership Program:

At present the PHA does not operate a Homeownership program either under Section 8 (y) or under Section 5 (h). The agency has reviewed the final rule and the comments received from the Resident Advisory Board.

It is the opinion of the PHA that the program would not be significantly successful at this time due to local factors (e.g. tight real estate market). In addition, administering homeownership as required under the final rule is difficult and time consuming. The mandatory counseling program alone, with its nine different topics, will be costly to run, and with no additional fees to pay for these very real administrative costs would make administering this program prohibitive.

However, the agency will reevaluate the program on an annual basis. Between annual reviews the agency will look for ways to lower costs (e.g. partnerships with other Homeownership programs) for future implementation.

Civil Rights Certification:

The Fairport Urban Renewal Agency as Housing Authority will comply and conform its Agency plans with title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, The Fair Housing Act, section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and title II of the Americans and Disabilities Act of 1990

Community Service and Self-Sufficiency:

Analysis of impediments within this jurisdiction clearly shows that Fair Housing choice in regards to mobility and economic independence remains an overall problem. It has been and continues to be a top priority of the PHA to promote self-sufficiency and economic independence. For many years- even before the FSS program was created- the PHA has administered an Operation Bootstrap Program, in fact the agency still continues to give a family a preference for waiting list purposes. At present the PHA has 9 families participating in its Self-Sufficiency Program. Of these families, 4 have established escrow accounts. The FSS Action Plan is available for public review at the PHA administrative office.

Recent Audit:

The Fairport Section 8 program was audited in November 2000 for fiscal year ended September 30th 2000. There are no findings (Auditors' letter available for public review) or outstanding issues to be resolved.

Project Based Vouchers :

In accordance with CFR part 983 as modified by Section 232 of the Appropriations Act. It is the intent of the PHA to reserve up to 10 units of tenant based assistance for Project Based assistance. The PHA plans to use these units within the Village of Fairport. This change is consistent with the PHA's annual and five-year plans and with the Monroe County CHAS.

The PHA has established a goal to target low-income elderly housing within the said location. The PHA feels that tenant based assistance is very limited, and very hard to target to any one locale. Project Based assistance will assure the availability of units for such a project. In addition, this form of assistance is important in providing long term financial stability assuring success for any planned project.

Policies related to Project Based assistance will be according to statutory changes of the Law and do not require agency discretion. However, some provisions of Appropriations Act require further rulemaking from HUD. The PHA will implement these new rules when completed.

Attachment A

Resident Advisory Board

The Fairport Housing Authority Resident Advisory Committee met on May 31, 2001 to review new proposed modifications to the agency's annual plan, and to review the agency progress with its established goals and objectives. The following is a list of comments received :

- Project based Vouchers:

The entire committee agreed with setting aside 10 units of tenant- based assistance for project based assistance. They felt that there is not enough affordable rental property within the Village of Fairport, and this would help increase the supply. Members also felt that 10 units taken out of the tenant-based program is not significant to otherwise harm the program.

- Homeownership Program:

Staff reviewed the Homeownership Final Rule with the committee, and worked out a couple of scenarios for homeownership. It was the opinion of many of the members that they hoped that the PHA would adopted some form of Homeownership program. Some members thought that the program as written was too regulated with not enough discretion given to local housing authorities to design their own programs based on local conditions.

- Progress Report:

Staff reported to the committee that the PHA was well ahead of its planned goals and objectives as outlined in the 5-Year Plan. First the agency has received 36 Fair Share Vouchers and applied for an additional 25. If received, the PHA will have achieved 61% of the planned 100 new vouchers.

Secondly, the agency has maintained – even with the new units received – a utilization rate of well over the planned 95%. Last fiscal year ending 9/30/2000; the PHA had a 99.7% lease-up rate. Finally, the agency has prioritized integration of its voucher program assistance for very low –income families outside typical low-income projects. And has established a goal of renting up to 70% of the total program to non-subsidized units. The agency has been able- even with conflicting program regulations- to maintain A 67.5% lease-up rate of non-subsidized units!

The committee has agreed with the proposed changes to the Agency’s annual plan for Fiscal year 2001 (beginning 10/1/01), and felt that it should be adopted as presented. The Board also thanked the staff for it’s hard work in securing affordable housing for Low-income families in this area.
